

REVISED MAP OF SALT LAKE CITY, SHOWING NEW ELECTION DISTRICTS

Map of Salt Lake City, showing boundaries of the election districts which were changed recently by the county commissioners.

The Republican primaries for the selection of delegates to the state and judicial conventions will be held this evening at places already designated by the county committee.

Because of the recent change in the districts in the city made by the county commissioners increasing the number from forty-one to fifty-four, the Herald prints above the map of the new districts.

The judicial convention will be composed of delegates from Salt Lake, Tooele and Summit counties, and will meet in Judge Ritchie's court room at the city and county building on May 9 to select candidates for the four positions as district judges and a candidate for district attorney.

The four judges now on the bench, T. D. Lewis, Charles W. Morse, Morris L. Ritchie and George G. Armstrong, are all candidates for re-nomination. The only active candidate for any of the positions is Judge J. J. Whittaker of the city court, who is after the job held by Judge Lewis. He is making a lively fight for the place. The other three judges will probably have no opposition.

Frederick C. Loofbouro, district attorney, has a lively fight on his hands to succeed himself. Job P. Lyon, former assistant county attorney, and H. A. Smith of the firm of Edwards, Smith & Price, are out for his job. Lyon seems to have the most strength at the present time, but Loofbouro has been subservient to the Smoot machine and therein lies his strength. Smith is not considered as a strong candidate, although he seems to have secured a bunch of country votes.

This contest will be the most strenuous one of the convention, and a pretty fight is sure to develop, which may take several ballots to settle.

SECRET SOCIETIES

Danish Sisterhood.

Utah lodge No. 59 had a very good attendance at its last meeting, Tuesday. A club composed of the sisters was organized to work for their proposed bazaar, to be held in the fall. A lecture by the Rev. Harold Jensen, which was both instructive and interesting, dealt with the evolution of the Danish language. The next meeting, on May 12, will be a short one, so as to give time to a lengthy program already arranged by the committee.

Royal Neighbors.

Auxiliary No. 4986 will hold regular session Monday evening, May 4, in I. O. O. F. hall. Last Monday a splendid meeting was held and some cards accepted. Some initiations will occur this evening. Great interest is being shown by members of the degree team. Splendid work has been accomplished by the guard and in the near future an exhibition will be given at the hall.

Past Noble Grand.

Members of the Past Noble Grand club will meet in I. O. O. F. hall at Murray next Thursday afternoon.

Maccabees.

Banner hive No. 11 will hold regular review Tuesday afternoon, May 5, at 2:30 o'clock.

Women of Woodcraft.

Woodbine circle, Women of Woodcraft, met in regular session Monday evening, April 27. The attendance was a record-breaker. The committee reported everything to be progressing nicely toward the entertainment of visiting neighbors and friends at Eagles' hall on the evening of Wednesday, May 6. In the guessing contest the vase given as a prize by Guardian Neighbor Bowditch was won by Miss Lulu Parsons. The guards will have practice drill after a short business session of the circle Monday evening, May 4.

Silver Maple circle 108 met in the woods on Friday night with Guardian Neighbor Herriek as chief chopper. There were visitors from Colorado and Woodbine circles. The circle was entertained by Miss Agnes Wells' dancing the Highland fling and by Neighbor Wagner with the musical chairs. There will be a big day with the W. of W. on May 6. The entertainment committee for next Friday night consists of Neighbors Johnson, Mowery and Schornert.

Salt Lake circle 559 met in regular form Thursday evening, April 30. Visitors from Woodbine were greeted with circle honors. Past Guardian Minnie Forrester was present and the circle presented her with a past guardian pin, the emblem of the order. A committee was appointed to meet with the other circles of the city to arrange for the log rolling May 6. Neighbors Bero, Marianne and Meyers were on the entertainment committee.

Modern Woodmen of America.

Excelsior camp held another very enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday. There were three candidates for initiation and the work was performed in an excellent manner by the degree team, under the command of Captain Terry. The officers and team have accepted an invitation from the Park City camp to exemplify the work on the evening of May 6 at the state convention. On Tuesday evening the delegates to Excelsior camp and a class adoption will take place and also a special program. The meeting will commence at 7:45 sharp.

G. A. R. and W. R. C.

James R. McKean post No. 1 meets in regular session on next Saturday evening, and it will be of interest to the comrades to hear the reports of the committee that will be made that evening.

George R. Maxwell W. R. C. will give a social and card party in their rooms next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The regular session will be held Wednesday afternoon at 7 o'clock.

The ladies of Reynolds circle, G. A. R., will give a social at the home of Mrs. Hirsch, 902 West Third South street, on Thursday afternoon.

Odd Fellows.

Canton Colfax Patriarchs Militant No. 1 held a cantonment on Saturday evening and received three new initiations, which were read and referred. The meeting nights were changed to the second and fourth Saturdays.

Golden Rule encampment No. 2 has a regular meeting tomorrow night, and to prepare for the new candidates there will be a drill of the degree staff.

Old Jordan lodge No. 3 has eighteen candidates for the initiatory degree to-night. The new scenery has arrived and is in place.

Fraternal Union of America.

Evergreen lodge No. 151 had a very pleasant meeting on Monday evening last, which was well attended. Mrs. Sablin of Nebraska was a welcome visitor. A short program preceded the card social. The lodge will meet again on Monday next, May 12.

Fraternal Brotherhood.

The meeting of Utah lodge No. 355 last Wednesday evening was very interesting and thoroughly enjoyable. Sezo Laby was the guest of the evening, the visitors and hosts fraternizing in a true fraternal spirit. The evening was devoted to cards, progressive high five being played, while later refreshments were served.

Knights of Pythias.

Rocky Mountain lodge held a lively meeting last week. Thursday evening several candidates will be initiated.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Lorch company opened the last half week of the present stock engagement at the Grand theatre to a well filled house last evening, presenting "The James Boys," a melodrama which, though seen locally several times in the past, never fails to draw large and appreciative audiences. Mr. Lorch's version of the play is said to be founded on facts and gives ample opportunity for the display of some capital scenic effects, and this, in addition to the strong cast of the Lorch organization, affords a pleasing performance. The same play continues up to and including Wednesday night, when the Lorch company will terminate its Salt Lake engagement, going to Denver for the summer. The Earl Burgess company will open an extended engagement at the Grand starting Thursday evening.

A new bill will be given at the Orpheum this evening. The three sisters Macarthe are the headliners with an aerial act that is said to be a sensation. The remainder of the bill promises well.

When Lew Dockstader and his minstrels come to the Salt Lake theatre next Friday and night, theatregoers will have the opportunity of seeing the great Dockstader in his new laugh producer, "A Dull Day in the White House," in which the Minstrel King impersonates President Roosevelt and gives a humorous rendition of the way he thinks the president's office should be run. It is said to be the happiest idea which he has ever evolved. Mr. Dockstader's portrayal of the chief executive is said to be a most clever caricature of the mannerisms and style of President Roosevelt, far above the plane of burlesque.

Katharine Ridgeway and her company will be the final attraction of the University of Utah lecture course. Miss Ridgeway, who is one of the most favorably known readers on the lyceum platform, will appear in Salt Lake for the first time Tuesday evening, May 5, at the First Congregational church. Although little is known of Miss Ridgeway in Salt Lake, she has gained a most enviable reputation in eastern cities. In the New England states, where lyceum attractions are most closely criticised, Miss Ridgeway is much praised for her work. Supporting Miss Ridgeway is Donald Chalmers, a basso of standing, and Miss Fae La Grange, one of the most talented pianists before the American people today. That is an evening's entertainment that will be a satisfaction to all.

The Business Man's Lunch

Should include a bottle of Fisher beer.

Why?

Because it is a most palatable beverage and particularly enjoyable at meal times, as it goes naturally with solid foods.

It is both an appetizer and a help toward digestion. It stimulates the action of the digestive organs.

It supplies both physical and mental refreshment and sends you back to your work with renewed vigor.
